Dear Editor,

03-November- 2017

We submitted the electronic manuscript of 'Effects of Intracanal Medicaments and the Remaining Cavity Wall on Fracture Strength of Endodontically Treated Molars' have written by Keziban OLCAY, Ata Nisa COBAN and Sema BELLI. The paper was submitted to be considered for publication as an "original research article" in "Brazilian Dental Science". Neither the writing nor any part of its content has been published or accepted in another journal. Paper is not sent another magazine.

We affirm that we do not have any financial affiliation (eg, employment, direct payment, shares, advisers, consultancy vessels, patent licensing arrangements or honoraria) with a commercial entity providing direct financial interest in the subject matter discussed in this article and that such regulation has not existed in the last three years . No other potential conflict of interest exists.

Thank you for attention to our paper.

Sincerely yours.

Keziban OLCAY
